Hurt by Falling Stone.

While at work near Thirty-sixth street and Prospect avenue, Georgetown, yesterday, James Enora was severely injured by a large stone which fell from a chain by which it was being hoisted.
He was removed to the Georgetown University Hospital, where physicians attended to a dislocated shoulder and contusions about the right foot. His condition is not thought to be serious.

Cut With a Razor.

A domestic quarrel at William Cook's home, 124 Twentieth street northwest, culminated about 1 o'clock this morning when he cut his wife on the right hand with a razor. She is said to have remained him keeping late hours, and he became infuriated, rushed to a bureau and drew out the keen-edged razor.
When he attacked her, directing the blade at her throat, she threw up her right hand to ward off the blow and received a severe cut in the finger. She declined the offer to send her to a hospital, and also refused to prosecute her husband.
